Publications of Interest

Journals:

Journal of Intercultural Studies is an international journal addressing inter- and multi-cultural issues published twice a year by Carfax Publishing Company, P. O. Box 25, Abington, Oxfordshire, OX14 3UE, UK. Vol. 18, No.1 (April 1997) included an essay by Gill Bottomley, "Identification: ethnicity, gender, and culture."

Multicultural Review is published quarterly by Greenwood Publishing Group, Westport, CT. It addresses ethnic, racial, and religious diversity, particularly in the classroom context.

Social Identities is a journal for the study of race, nation, and culture published three times a year by Carfax Publishing Company, P. O. Box 25, Abington, Oxfordshire, OX14 3UE, UK. Social Identities is an interdisciplinary and international focal point for theorizing issues at the interface of social identities. Issues of particular concern include the transformation of economies and cultures of postmodern and post colonial contexts.

CRM: Cultural Resources Management, Volume 21, No. 4, was a special issue on Slavery and Resistance, edited by Frank Faragasso and Doug Stover. Published by the National Park Service and distributed free of charge, this was the third annual thematic issue devoted to African-American history. The focus of this issue is slavery and the underground railroad, topics that are currently receiving a lot of attention in the Park Service. While only one of the articles is concerned with an archaeological property, the townsite of Quindaro in Kansas, there is much of interest here, particularly concerning the public interpretation of the African-American past. CRM is available by writing to the NPS' cultural Resources office, 1849 C Street, NW, Suite 350NC, Washington, DC 20240.
